

UK Location: AGI Suppliers SIG INSPIRE Update

Time/Date: Wednesday 16th November 2011, 09:30-13:00
Tea and coffee will be served on arrival from 09:30-10:00

Venue: School of Economic Science
11-13 Mandeville Place, London, W1U 3AJ

Chair: AGI System and Service Supplier's SIG (TBC)

Overview:

Following on from the AGI Suppliers SIG meeting in January featuring an update from the UK Location Programme, we are pleased to announce the next UK Location Programme update specifically for AGI Suppliers. The last meeting provided a update on delivery and a focus on requirements for the list of Third Party Suppliers.

This meeting will provide suppliers with an update on the UK Location programme, discovery metadata service tools that have been developed for data providers, a look at the focus of the Linked Data Working Group, UK's position on Network Services and the current review of INSPIRE Data Specifications.

The goal is to help you better understand what UK Location is providing, feed back to the UK Location programme team on the programmes current direction and how you may consider helping the programme achieve it aims.

Outline agenda:

Speakers will be from the UK Location Programme team, AGI and the delivery partners for the UK Location Programme

Costs:

There will be no charge for the event but numbers are limited and early registration is therefore encouraged. The event, being run by the AGI, is open to all AGI System and Service Supplier's SIG members. If you are not a member of the SIG or the AGI then please still contact Matthew White as we do wish to be able to accommodate non-members if space permits.

To register:

Please register by e-mail to Matthew White
(Matthew.White@ordnancesurvey.co.uk)

Registration closes 09 November 2011.

Your registration will be confirmed by e-mail and any additional joining instructions provided. The venue is the same as for the previous AGI System Supplier events and is situated about 3 minutes walk from Bond Street tube station.
